Product Summary

The Shot Gun Hinge RatDoor™ is a realistic training door that teaches the proper approach, targeting and dwelling entrance. This high quality door allows the user to shoot out locksets and/or hinges to gain entry.

The Shot Gun Hinge door is secured in position until all targets have been defeated. Once each location has been defeated, the operator kicks or bumps the door inward. Safety hinges along the bottom edge of the door ensure safe and controlled breaches.

Door can be installed into a structure or used free-standing with the optional leg kit (FSLK). The door uses low cost wood inserts to simulate the locksets and hinges.

The Shot Gun Hinge RatDoor™ is a realistic training door that teaches the proper approach, targeting and dwelling entrance. This high quality door allows the user to shoot out locksets, hinges or both to gain entry. The Shot Gun Hinge door is secured in position until all targets have been defeated. Once each location has been shot, the operator kicks or bumps the door inward. Safety hinges along the bottom edge ensure safe and controlled breaches.

The Shot Gun Hinge RatDoor™ can be installed into a structure or used free-standing with the optional leg kit. The door itself is constructed of structural steel and measures 80" x 34". The frame is also fabricated from structural steel and measures 84" x 40". High strength polymer skin has a heavily textured surface to help reduce the risk of slipping when entering the dwelling. Door uses low cost wood inserts to represent the locksets and hinges. By varying the thickness and type of wood, users can simulate residential and industrial door breaches (single or double shot). These wood inserts can be purchased or cut to size onsite. Free standing kit can be purchased separately.
